GMLOS For Inpatients

This tip sheet will show clinicians how they can hover to discover the patient’s Geometric Mean Length Of Stay (GMLOS) from within Epic and show how to add GMLOS as a patient list column. The GMLOS is only available for inpatient. It is not available for observation patients.

Try It Out

See GMLOS from the Storyboard

From within a patient’s chart, the GMLOS will show up within the storyboard. Easily see the GMLOS in days right next to your Expected Discharge Date or hover your cursor on any text after the “Exp Disch Date” to see the GMLOS information bubble.
